

MassHire Greater Brockton Workforce Board is pleased to announce the appointment of Jason Hunter as the next Executive Director. Born and raised in the region, Jason has had over 20 years of experience in the nonprofit world and has been proven to be a leader in the field. A graduate of Bridgewater State University, Jason has deep roots in the community that makes him a natural to understand the needs of the community and workforce at large. Jason has recently served as Director of Operations, a position that has helped to prepare him for the Executive Director role. Chairman of the Board, Joe Lovetere, states “The Board is pleased to support the appointment of Jason Hunter as Executive Director.

Jason having served alongside former ED Sheila Sullivan Jardim has vast program knowledge and expertise which will serve the organization and its team members well, now and in the years ahead. He has the Board's full support”. Jason lives in Whitman with his partner Jamie Snyder and their daughter Sophie.

The MassHire Greater Brockton Workforce Board is one of 16 Workforce Boards statewide working to build links between the business community and the workforce. Under The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) the Board oversees and implements workforce development activities in the Greater Brockton Region. We are composed of private sector business, labor, education, and community leaders. For more information about MassHire Greater Brockton Workforce Board, contact the Board at 508 584-3234.